UNIONTOWN, April 26.
Without formal notice, and in the presence of less than eighty spectators, the court today handed down the liquor license decisions for the year.
Both Judges R. E. Umbel and J. G.
Van Swearingen were on the bench.
Judge Umbel read the list and announced the court's decision. There was no deviation from the rule which has prevailed in Fayette County for years.

Judge Umbel gave no instructions to the successful applicants, having previously covered this ground during the arguments over the license list.
There were but two cases in the entire list. One of those affected Connellville, the application being that of John Popovich for the New Hotel Kelly. This action did not cause great surprise. The other refusal was that of the Cheat River Brewing Company for a brewery license.

There were several withdrawals and a few cases were held over for further consideration. Those who withdrew their applications were C. E. Corrado, for a hotel in Perry township; Howard F. Shipley, for a hotel in Redstone township; Sam Goldstein, for a hotel in Uniontown; and the Gray Distilling Company, for a distillery in George Township. The last over included the retail applications of J. R. McMullen from Brownsville; Harry Brady, Nicholson township; David L. Cason, Banning; Charles G. Teed, Uniontown; and the distillers' applications from the Gray Distilling Company of Masontown.

Aside from these, all of the other applications were granted. Remonstrances had been made against some, but not many. The license list for the

BILLS ON CALENDAR*Real Grind at the Capital Will Begin With Monday Session.*WILL CREATE NEW DEPARTMENT*Final Action is Awaited on Labor and Industry Bureau Which is to be Established; Pure Food Measure is on Second Reading; Bills Pending.

HARRISBURG, April 26.
The Senate will put in the busiest week of the session, beginning next Monday night, its calendar for that evening having 119 bills. Sixty of them are on second reading, 23 on second and 36 on third.

Perhaps the most important men-sure on the third reading calendar is the bill introduced by Representative Charles J. Roney of Philadelphia, which creates the Department of Labor and Industry. It has the approval of the Senate administration, and abolishes the Department of Factory Inspection. It is expected that the bill will be in the hands of the Governor before the end of the coming week.

The Gerberich bill, prohibiting the adulteration of food, confectionery and non-alcoholic drinks, will be up for second reading Monday night. Another bill of considerable importance which authorizes the council of boroughs to require the sprinkling or cleaning of public streets or roads and assess the cost to the owners or occupants of property abutting thereon, it will probably pass the Senate and be dedicated to meet with vigorous opposition in the lower branch.

The Mat Bill, which passed the House and which provides for the pensioning of soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the United States army or navy from Pennsylvania, during the Civil War, is another measure on second reading.

A hard fight will be put up in the Senate against the Lovers Bill, relating to a reading of at least two verses of the Bible each day to the pupils of the public schools. It is on first reading.

Two Memorial Day bills are also on first reading. One presented by Senator Cullin, requires the counties, towns and boroughs to annually appropriate not more than $50 to each camp of the United Spanish War Veterans to aid in the expenses of Memorial Day. The other, a House bill, authorizes counties to appropriate money for monuments or memorials in memory of soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American War who served on foreign soil prior to July 4, 1902. A bill sponsored by Senator Mills amends the Act of 1907 which authorizes county commissioners in counties and councils in boroughs, or both, to appropriate annually a sufficient sum of money to each post of the Grand Army in their respective counties or boroughs to aid in defraying the expenses of Memorial Day so as to include camps of the Spanish War Veterans.

The Cox Loan Shurt Bill, limiting the interest on loans to farm two and two-thirds to five per cent. a month, is on first reading in the upper branch.
Another measure in the same category is the Bigger bill allowing mayors of the second class to run for another office at the expiration of their terms.
At present they are barred from so doing for two years after leaving office.
The House third-reading postponed calendar.

The answer, drawn by the committee on resolutions and delivered to Governor Hatfield tonight, follows in part:

"On behalf of the coal miners in the fields involved by the fact that the miners in said fields will concede to and adopt your recommendations, viz:

"First, that the operators concede to the miners their right to elect a checkoffman.

"Second, that a nine-hour day be conceded.

"Third, that any miner may be permitted to purchase his supplies where-ever it suits him best.

"Fourth, a semi-monthly pay day.

"You have stated that you recognize the right and privilege of the miners of this state to belong to a labor union."

GIANT STEAMSHIP COMPANYGreat Lake Concerns Merged at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., April 26.
The biggest merger of Great Lake steamship companies since the formation of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company took place here when the stockholders of the Lackawanna Steamship Company met and organized the Inter-Lake Steamship Company.

Thirty-nine freighters owned by the Lackawanna Steamship Company, the Buffalo and Erie Bay Bridge, President
Steamship Company, Acme Steamship Company and Standard Steamship Company were combined with 17 vessels belonging to the old Gilchrist company, which was under a receivership and lately was unable to service its debts and the receivership dissolved.
The new company is capitalized at $6,500,000, with bonds of $3,000,000.

At a recent meeting of the congregation of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in the West Side the board of trustees was given power to dispose of the church property on Main street. It is understood that two Connellville men are the prospective buyers and the deal will be closed soon. The consideration is $16,000.

Church was erected by the congregation about 26 years ago. It is a frame

TEACH POSTAL RULINGSEighth Grade Pupils are Given a Study That is Useful.

A new study has been added in the eighth grade of the schools. On suggestion of Postmaster A. E. Kurtz, who furnished the text books, Superintendent E. P. Ashe has added the study of postal laws and regulations, which relate to the classification of mail, rates of postage and the manner in which to address mail.

Postmaster Kurtz wrote Superintendent Ashe as follows:

"There is no department of the government service in which the people as a whole come in closer contact, or as important that they should familiarize themselves with the laws and regulations governing the same, than the Postoffice Department.

"With this in mind, I wish to ask your co-operation in imparting a valuable knowledge of the postal laws and regulations to the pupils of this school. Insofar as they relate to the classification of mail, the rates of postage, the proper manner in which to address mail matters, etc."

MINE DEATH LIST
TOTALS 93; HOPE
TO RESCUE SCORE*Finding of Two Alive Gives Workers at Pit Fresh Courage.*FIVE BODIES ARE FOUND TODAY*Tomorrow Will be a Day of Funerals in Stricken Mining Town; Bodies are Identified With Difficulty and Only Fifty of the Dead are Known.

United Press Telegram.
MONONGAHELA CITY, April 26.
The recovery early today of five bodies brought the death list in the ill-fated Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company to 93. Sixty-two bodies have been identified.

Charles Crawl and Philip Legler, miners entombed since Wednesday and rescued last night, were in the hospital here today weakened by 60 hours' imprisonment.

When found last night the men urged their rescuers to leave them, and proceeded further into the mine, where other miners are known to be confined, however, and given nourishment.

The recovery of Crawl and Legler gave anxious relatives of missing men fresh hope, though at best it is believed that not more than a score of imprisoned miners can possibly be alive today.

The United Mine Workers and the women of Monongahela City have each contributed sums of $1,000 to start a relief fund for survivors of the disaster victims.

Funeral arrangements are being made for the funerals tomorrow Sunday for a day of burials in Monongahela City. Quick burials are necessary, and as soon as a body is identified it is removed to the home of relatives, where arrangements are made for the funeral. Some of the bodies will be buried without identification, although every effort is being made to make identifications.

A CLEAN SCALP MEANS BEAUTIFUL HAIR

There is nothing "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. Some dealers will even go so far as to tell you they have something better.

That dealer has an axe to grind. You can't stop his grinning, but you can prevent him from grinding it at your expense.

There is one sure, swift way to do it. Go where you can get what you ask for.

You wouldn't be obliged to do this very often, as fortunately the majority of druggists are honest and conscientious.

Nothing Herpicide has been so long and favorably known as "the original dandruff destroyer" that no one should be deceived.

When you need a hair remedy, I don't want only money, I want money to kill the dandruff germ and prevent the hair from falling.

You want one that will do it. Herpicide does it.

The hair becomes soft and lustrous. There is life, snap and beauty where formerly the hair was dead, dull and brittle.

Applications of this wonderful prophylactic may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. P., Detroit, Mich. for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

PARENTS ARE STUBBORN

Keep Children Out of Pittsburg Schools Despite Threats of Fines.

PITTSBURG, April 25. Fear of $25 a day fines today failed to end the strike of school children who refuse to attend school as long as Superintendent S. L. Heister continues in office. STREETS ARE DUSTY Efforts of the Water Wagon Fleece Beside Gust of Mountain Gale.

The water wagon was out of business day and night but the results were not visible to the naked eye. Last night Main street resembled the Desert of Sahara during a sandstorm. Dust blew in swirling eddies, sweeping up the street and down, across and back. It was the dustiest night in months.

The water wagon was out of business for a time but Street Commissioner James Stouffer completed repairs in time to get it in working order yesterday. The dry spell, however, left too much dust to be obliterated by a few minutes' sprinkling. Then, too, the wind was more severe than usual, although it brought no rain during the night.

THE TARIFF FIGHT.

The Republicans at Washington are heckling the Democratic defenders of the Wilson bill, and incidentally making it apparent that the latter are not well informed on the subject they are legislating about.

In the House yesterday, Representative J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who has made a study of the tariff question, put the Democratic tariff through a course of instruction that was not highly appreciated. Moore may have made some mistakes, but Representative Moore showed that he had blundered as often or had been as poorly informed as to his geography as the prophets who are trying to lead the Democratic party into the Promised Land, he would never have gotten past the Red Sea.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer was hard put in defending himself and his party from the just criticisms of the Republicans for raising Pennsylvania's chief industrial and financial center to a level of protection, when a Tennessee member wanted to know whether iron ore was placed on the free list for the benefit of Charles M. Schwab whose big steel plant is in Pennsylvania's Congressional district, and why the duty on ferro manganese which the United States Steel Corporation controls in this country and does not need to buy abroad was increased 300 per centum?

At the other end of Pennsylvania avenue Democratic senators from southwestern and western states were imploring President Wilson to save the sugar and wool industries, had incidentally to save them and the Democratic party from annihilation. The senators were given to understand that the Wilson idea must be conserved no matter how many of them were elected to remain at home after this session. The senators were wondering where the glory of such a martyrdom comes in. They are sure of the immediate condemnation of their constituents, and they think they see the condemnation of the country written large and black upon the national horizon.

There is only one thing for these senators to do. They should follow the wishes of their constituents, and defend the Constitution of the United States. The Democrats have denounced as "the imperial decree of King Caucus." Their defiance can be made effective only by joining hands with the Republicans to defeat the Free Trade bill, or to force its modification to meet their notions of justice to their people.

HOPE OR CHAIN?

The unfortunate incident in connection with the execution of John Harris has started a fresh outcry against hanging as a method of capital punishment. The Uniontown Standard joins in the demand for the electric chair. It says:

"No more conclusive argument why the electric chair should be substituted for the brutal noose in Pennsylvania could be advanced than that afforded by the spectacle witnessed here yesterday at the county jail when John Harris paid the death penalty by strangulation. Capital punishment in any form is revolting. The sentiment against it is steadily growing. As a deterrent of crime it would seem to have long since proved a striking failure. But as long as capital punishment remains the law in this State it is up to the legislators to provide the method which will be the least revolting and the least painful and at the same time as nearly instantaneous as possible. The substitution of the electric chair for hanging should be provided for by immediate legislation. The horrors of the noose are those connected with a revolting, loathsome and repugnant relic of barbarism, or even worse."

"One swallow does not make a summer." The stretching of one rope does not argue the stretching of another, at least not very soon, nor is it a "conclusive" argument against the "brutal noose." There are cases on record wherein the victims of the electric chair have been found to be alive after undergoing the first shock, and have been subjected to another and stronger one. Who shall say that the suffering of the victim of the "brutal noose" is any worse than the torture of the twice-electrocuted?

These methods of capital punishment have been exhaustively discussed and carefully considered during a number of years by experts in all countries, and the latter have not come to an agreement, chiefly because of the fact that those who are capable of testifying from actual experience never come back.

JOHN THOMPSON MORGAN.
"I commit my soul into the hands of my Savior, in full confidence that having redeemed it in His most precious blood He will present it faultless before the throne of my Heavenly Father, and I entrust my children to maintain and defend at all hazards, and at any cost of personal sacrifice, the blessed doctrine of the complete atonement for sin through the blood of Jesus Christ, once offered, and through that alone."

This extraordinary introduction to the will of John Thompson Morgan, one of the richest men in the world, and in the eyes of many not so rich, the once chief among sinners of Sweden, wealth, yet here is evidence of the fact that he was a devout man and a firm believer in Christianity. While he acquired great wealth, there are upon the records of his long career no black blot of dishonor. He was a mighty money maker. His wealth came to him through opportunity and ability. He started life a relatively rich man, properly located for large operations. His commanding genius as a financier did the rest. The socialist will tell him he had too much money, and he did; but a man of ordinary ability might have had less than his father gave him. The biblical story of the rich man, his steward and his talents, illustrates this old rule of the survival of the fittest.

THE BROWNVILLE BRIDGE.

The Commissioners of Fayette county have from time to time been accused by persons of little patience and less judgment of delaying the construction of the Brownville bridge.

Yet no single action of the commissioners can now be criticized. It is recognized that the procedure has been wise and proper for the protection of the counties against possible come-backs. The last and greatest obstacle was the United States Government. That having been passed the commissioners have lost no time in preparing for the work of construction.

The Fayette county commissioners are not against Brownville, but they are careful to protect the county.

This bill to substitute controllers for auditors in boroughs failed of passage as it should. Borough controllers are advisable only in boroughs of sufficient size to warrant the constant employment of an audit officer. The great majority of boroughs are not of this size.

Connellsville's disorganized, dismissed, down-and-out "social" club was not a socialist organization. When poker began, friendship ceased.

The new members of the health board have had their titles certified.

City Hall Square is being redeemed from the suspicion of being one of the ugliest spots of Conneltsville. Let the work of redemption go right on since the city authorities have set such an excellent example.

The Legislature did right to defeat the bill forbidding the use of electricity in mines. The dangers of electricity are remote and its advantages are many and pronounced.

High school baseball begins today and the thoughts of the pupils will from time to time skip from base to base and wander far afield.

Smithfield has established a solid connection with Fayette county's first industry.

With the completion of the latest R. & O. Improvement, Conneltsville will become a four-track town.

Bicycle riders and all manner of vehicles are becoming entirely too reckless of the rights of the common people who walk the streets of Conneltsville, and it is time the Conneltsville authorities woke up some of the worst cases.

Another Frick veteran has met an untimely fate. The roof falls get the best of them, and the annual aggregate of fatalities from this cause far exceeds the death record of big disasters like that of this week.

Pennsylvania's railroad employees must be temperate and the management has about concluded that the best way to be temperate is to be a total abstainer.

The West Side complains of the dust. The West Side has no monopoly of that undesirable commodity.

The Ohio floods caused railroad earnings for the first quarter to shrink appreciably. Watered stock means expansion, but watered railroads means contracted dividends.

The circus is booked and summer's just gotta come soon.

Abe Martin.

High money often makes more noise than any other kind. There's one good thing about the fellow that speaks from manuscript—he knows when to stop. Ike Grimes died yesterday of an extended longevity. Women's hats cost four times as much as they look this spring.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON
The Famous Prose Poet

Progressive Extravagance

"MRS. VIOLENCE was here today, and she says they're going to sell their family horse," said Mrs. James Washington. "I really think we should be able to buy it. The money we have to spend for street car fares would feed the animal, and think of the good times we could have driving in the summer evenings."

"It's a most alluring prospect," said Jamesworth, and if I thought for a moment that you would be satisfied with a horse and buggy after getting it, I might go into executive session and give the proposition serious consideration, knowing as I do how much extra work it would entail upon me. You think that owning a horse is one round of pleasure. You picture yourself driving around the suburbs with your foot on the dashboard, looking scornfully at such acquaintance as can't afford to go driving, and you give no thought whatever to the thousand and one chores a horse owner has to do."

"I'd have to get up in the middle of the night, when the clock in the street strikes one, and work until daybreak, surveying and cleaning the beast, and this would necessitate buying a pair of overalls and a jumper and a dust-proof helmet, and you give me no thought whatever to the thousand and one chores a horse owner has to do."

"I'd have to get up in the middle of the night, when the clock in the street strikes one, and work until daybreak, surveying and cleaning the beast, and this would necessitate buying a pair of overalls and a jumper and a dust-proof helmet, and you give me no thought whatever to the thousand and one chores a horse owner has to do."

"That's always the way with family horses," Mrs. Jamesworth said. "I tell you for the fact of their being with all the delicacies of the season, and becoming so fat that they can't be ridden, and then you have to engage veterinary surgeons and trained nurses and apothecaries, and by the time the horse is on its feet again there is a hole in your bank account that makes the pocketbook seem less than three feet wide."

And one department that did more to make this record, famous for reliability, is the grocery department. It is becoming more famous daily for its reliability; its guarantee of the class of goods, and its fair reasonable prices. Go to any of our stores at any time, and inquire of the prices of flour, sugar, coffee, beans, potatoes, any class of can goods, rice, or any other article in groceries, which most families buy daily, staple lines. Ask our prices and then examine the quality, now be sure to examine the quality, and then compare us with other dealers.

Be fair in your decision and we can tell you now what the verdict will be, the Union Supply Company beats them all, for quality and for price. Further, we give you prompt service in the stores and we give you prompt deliveries with our wagons. No difference how insignificant the purchase, it will get the same prompt attention as the fifty, sixty, seventy-five or hundred dollar purchase. Remember what very large dealers we are, and remember too, we only buy first class goods. Ask the man who has the goods to sell; he will substantiate our statements, and remember we are giving you these first-class fresh goods at lower prices than many merchants are offering inferior grades. The extraordinary large demand makes it necessary for us to have many carloads come into our distributing point daily. This means to you, clean, fresh goods all the time.

THE HOME BEAUTIFUL NO. 64.

This plan stands out in bold contrast to the Bungalow types which form the major part of this collection. It is of the design known as a square type, two-story house, and is intended for a large family. No pains have been spared to make it convenient and no waste room is to be found anywhere, even the small space under the stair landing has been utilized as a place for shoes, and is reached by means of a small door in the Dining Room. A coat closet is put under the stairs in the Hall. The large Living Room with its brick mantel and large window seat makes a pleasant place for the family to gather and spend the long winter evenings. The Dining Room is ample for the use of a large family and is greatly enhanced by the window seat which may be kept filled with flower plants. A cool retreat for a summer evening is found on the screened porch opening off the dining room. The kitchen is free from built-in furniture, excepting the sink and a small china cupboard flush with the wall over cellar stairs. The Pantry is compact and complete with cupboard, and work table with bin and drawers under.

The second floor contains four large sleeping rooms, the two in front being connected with a cased opening being used by the parents and small children. The Bath is complete in every detail. The Attic furnished good storage room.

At the Theatres.

THE ROISSON!

THE RAINY PICTURE TONIGHT.
The Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures will be presented at the Solson theatre this afternoon and tonight. Mr. Rainey graphically describes the "Water Hole" during the weeks that the motion picture operator remained at the water hole he noticed one peculiar thing, which was that the animals always presented a certain order in drinking. A number came down at once. The rhinoceros were always given the preference even by the elephant, and lions stood aside for these beasts. After the rhinoceros came the elephants, then the lions, leopards and other big cats took their turn. The giraffe and other harmless beasts always stood at the water hole in respect to their more powerful brethren, but at no time did the lions attempt to molest them, and they were seemingly immune from attack while drinking.

"THE MASCOT."

Bright, captivating music, laughable scenes and a chorus of exceedingly pretty girls are features of "The Mascot," that will be produced at the Solson Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23 and 24, by the Connellsville Opera Club, under the direction of Charles H. Stout. It will be equal of any musical production this season of the same nature. Heat sale opens tomorrow morning at the theatre.

HENRIETTA CROSMAN.

Henrietta Crossman in her smiling, laughing, screaming comedy, "The Real Thing," will be the attraction at the Solson Theatre, Friday, May 2. "The Real Thing" was christened "an every day comedy" because it appealed to everybody who had, or contemplated having, a home. It was written by Catherine Chisholm Cunningham and is, in the opinion of many, the biggest success Henrietta Crossman ever had.

It is some time since Miss Crossman has appeared in Connellsville. Some time ago she was booked here but at the last moment the engagement was cancelled and Miss Crossman was compelled to go into New York to fill her annual engagement there. This time, however, Miss Crossman is coming in the best play she has ever produced, and there will be nothing to again necessitate a change of plans.

"The Real Thing" tells a story of the wife who, when the children come, forgets she has a husband. Not that she loves him less, but all her time is taken up with her children and her household duties. When he married her she sang, played tennis, rode horseback and was a good man. An moon as she is married she forgets that she has to hold her husband by the same means she caught him and neglects her own appearance and devotes all her time to the children and the house.

This condition of affairs continues until the good fairy in the shape of a sister, the "widow," comes along and preaches that while it "may be criminal to neglect the children, it is fatal to neglect the husband," and a really good wife and mother need do neither. So you see there is scarcely a man or woman to whom this comedy does not appeal.

Miss Crossman's company comprises a number of well known players whose names should be familiar to the habitués of the theatre, the same identical cast that contributed so much to the phenomenal success of this play during its long run in New York at the Maxine Elliott theatre, among whom are two remarkable children who in this play, are said to give performances that rival those of Tommy Russell and Little Lord Fauntleroy, years ago.

The Singing I've, Arcade Theatre, Next Week.

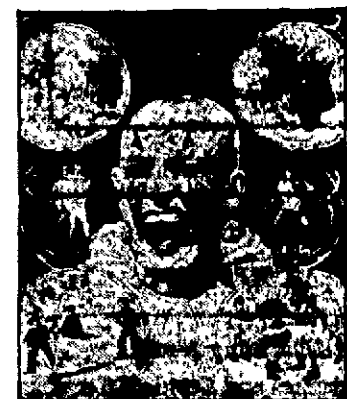

THE ARCADE.

The bill for the last half of the week at the Arcade Theatre is headed by Lenor's Mahtkins, a very clever act with a miniature stage and models that almost seem real. Others on the bill are Anita Link, the dainty little singer and dancer. Mick and Van in a singing and talking act, also Johnson and his dogs. Coming next Monday the hit of the season, "Gus John's Minstrels," positively the most stupendous production in vaudeville. Produced and managed by Tom Powell, the man who put the U in fun and will put fun in you.

Women are at last coming into her own. Women and drivers in Paris, policemen in Los Angeles and a woman mayor at a little town out in Kansas. The eternal feminine is more eternal than ever and now comes women animal trainers. What are fast crowding the masculine sex for honors which they once held exclusively.

Six out of the famous eight lady animal trainers in the world are with the Hasenbeck-Wallace Circus which comes to Connellsville, Friday, May 9 for two performances. They are graduates of Carl Hasenbeck's animal school at Hamburg, Germany and arrived in America at the beginning of the present circus season. They perform almost incredible feats with their dangerous charges and their acts are the most thrilling since the days when old Nero sat on the throne in Rome and the Coliseum was in all its glory.

One of the most essential features in the training of wild animals is patience. This is one characteristic in which the gentle sex excels. Allied with patience must be good judgment, and one who is patient generally has good judgment. Trainers whose patience is limited never last long. There comes a day when through heavy temper or a sudden loss of patience, the trainer says or does some foolish thing, which spells his defeat as a conqueror of animals.

There is a thrill and fascination in the training of wild animals which one can never successfully able to throw off when once it is experienced. All wild animal trainers deep down in their hearts know that they will one day meet their death through the beast they are seeking to conquer. However they apparently labor under the impression that they are one of the chosen immortals and on until suddenly the curtain of life is lowered on them without warning.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, April 26.—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell of Williamsburg, are visiting friends and relatives in this their former home. Mr. Campbell was in the mercantile business here and conducted the business successfully for many years, when he sold his business to W. E. Leach and disposed of other valuable property to C. A. Cawson, and moved to Williamsburg a year ago. This is the first visit Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have paid the borough since leaving it.

Joseph Wolfe of Springfield township, was in the borough Friday morning getting his check cashed for back pension under act of May 11, 1912, amounting to $129.29. He is now rated at $10 per month, the highest rate allowed under the act. He belonged to the 3rd Maryland Infantry. He was captured with his regiment at Harpers Ferry when General Miles surrendered that garrison to the Confederate forces under General Jackson on September 15, 1862.

Thomas L. Board of Nicholson township, was a business visitor on Friday.

The many friends of Alice Frankenberg, an inmate of Dixmont, have arranged a postal shower for her on Sunday, April 27. Address cards to Doctor Hutchinson, care Dixmont, Pa. Miss Frankenberg was one of the brightest students of the Smithfield schools until her mental capacity became impaired by her constant application to her studies.

Frank Smith was a business visitor at Cheat Haven Friday.

Alfred Frankenberg of Crowns Ferry was in the borough on Friday.

Colonel TODHUNTER of Missouri

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS

Copyright, 1911, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"That isn't so bad," commented Colonel Strickland, "if the later returns don't increase it."

"Greene, Buchanan and Vernon counties," read Dick Cantrell, "go for Yancey; also Andrew, Cass, Cole, Devine, Dunklin, Henry, Johnson, Livingston, Pleas, Sullivan and Wright."

"Shush!" scolded Colonel Todhunter. "They've been conceded all along. The figures—the figures is what we'd like to get."

Cantrell waved a new bulletin just lastly.

"Strickland's heavy lead," he read. "It is Jasper, Callaway, Pike, Marion, Audrain and Laclede counties. The following counties also go for Strickland: Berry, Barton, Bates, Butler, Camden, Clark, Franklin, Lewis, Lincoln, Macon, Monticello, Phelps, Pulaski, Polk, Ripley, St. Francis, Ste. Genevieve, St. Louis, Shelby, Stoddard, Wayne and Webster."

"Yancey!" yelled Sam Birdsong. "We've got 'em on the run!"

"Figures are still what's needed, Sam," said Colonel Todhunter. "We've known of these war counties all the time—but by how much? That's the question."

"Later returns," read Dick Cantrell, "show Yancey leading in Kansas City, St. Joseph and in thirty-three counties by 18,307."

"Now we're getting down to it," spoke Colonel Strickland grimly. "Let's see—thirty-three counties—um hum—and St. Joseph, Yancey, Thurn, according to these figures they're counting up an all-fired heavy Yancey vote in Kansas City!"

"St. Louis," read Editor Cantrell. "Many disturbances reported at the polls. Reliable return on vote will be late. Police have made numerous arrests."

Colonel Strickland looked worried. "Todhunter," he said, "the St. Louis gang's getting in its work for Yancey all right."

But Colonel Todhunter declined this view. "I ain't so slightly sure. Who knows but what that's a good sign for us?"

"The police can't reach crooked work done by judges and clerks of election," pointed out Colonel Strickland.

"Well," replied Colonel Todhunter, "they can prevent intimidation at the polls anyway."

But even he had to join in the laugh that followed.

"Partial returns from thirty-six rural counties," read Dick Cantrell, "give Yancey plurality of 4,000."

Thus the bulletins began to come in swift succession. The Blade's editor read them breathlessly.

Suddenly his voice, sounding a note of apprehension, rang out.

"Kansas City gives Yancey a plurality of 12,003!"

Dead silence followed the announcement.

Colonel Bill Strickland laid down the pencil with which he had been figuring.

"That settles it, gentlemen," he said. "We're done for!"

"We ain't heard from St. Louis yet, Bill," suggested Colonel Todhunter.

"We don't need to wait for St. Louis," replied Colonel Strickland. "If they've counted up a 12,000 plurality against me in Kansas City they'll play the game to the limit in St. Louis too. They're only holding St. Louis back to see what's needed. If necessary they'll plug me with a 10,000 plurality there. I'm probably backed by 18,000 the way things look now."

Again Dick Cantrell's voice sounded. "It is now estimated that Yancey will carry the state by 19,000. His managers claim that he is nominated as the returns now stand."

Far down the street arose the sound of music and cheering.

Soon the strains of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" were plainly distinguishable, brought nearer and nearer by a large marching band.

It was the Nineveh bugle and drum corps, heading the Stephen K. Yancey campaign club, starting out on a triumphal parade to celebrate the victory of the Hon. Stephen K. Yancey over the Hon. William J. Strickland for the Democratic nomination for governor of Missouri.

Colonel Bill Strickland smiled grimly. "Look pleasant, Thurston," he said. "Put on your sweetest expression. They'll be marching by here in a minute."

"I'll just be eternally condemned if I do!" retorted Colonel Todhunter. "I can take my medicine just as gracefully as the next man when I know it's come to me, but I'll be jinxed right if it's come to me yet. The cards has all got to be laid down on the table before I let any man take the pot, sub!"

Colonel Strickland shook his head, smiling.

The next moment the vanguard of the approaching column came in sight. In another instant the Nineveh bugle and drum corps and the Stephen K. Yancey campaign club, followed by a crowd of cheering Yanceytes, were swinging proudly past the Blade office.

"Deceit for Yancey!" the paraders shouted. Colonel Todhunter, still as a grenadier, stood on the open door of his law office and he confronted the triumphant foe. Suddenly a mocking voice sounded.

"We're sorry for poor old Bill Strickland," it cried, "but he never ought to have bucked up against Steve Yancey!"

Colonel Todhunter's fighting blood leaped in his veins. "Who are you that's so sorry for Bill Strickland?" he asked. There was an ill omen in his level tone.

No reply came. But Colonel Todhunter identified the speaker by following the glances of his fellows in the line.

"Oh, it's you, is it, Jeff Harris?" he said. "You, that didn't know at first whether you was for Colonel Strickland or old Steve Yancey, couldn't make up your mind till you saw which 'ry it was most profitable for you to jump."

Well, Jeff, your man ain't nominated yet. And in the meanwhile I wouldn't like nothin' better, you white livered skunk, than to wipe up the ground with you!"

But at this critical moment Colonel Bill Strickland, laughing, pulled Colonel Todhunter back into the Blade office, and Jeff Harris passed on with the Yancey parade.

"You old firebrand, you!" the candidate spluttered, "standing with him!"

"What's his bias and Sam Hill do you want to let a thing like that ruffle you up for? I thought you had more sense."

"I've got sense enough, Bill," said Colonel Todhunter. "But all my life I've been ready to clinch with any man that tried to mock me or my friend, thinkin' he was down and out, and I'll just be shot full o' holes if I ain't still ready."

Dick Cantrell's voice interrupted. "Here's another bulletin," he cried.

Then he read: "Returns from St. Louis just beginning to come in. It is now claimed that Strickland has carried that city. Yancey's managers are charging Randolph Carter, the newly appointed chairman of the board of election commissioners, with unlawfully using his authority in Strickland's behalf. Last night Carter removed many judges and clerks of election, claiming to have proof that they had been appointed to insure Yancey's victory by fraud and appointed others in their places. The chief of police is supporting him by giving the new appointees ample police protection at the polls. Many disturbances at polling places have resulted."

Colonel Todhunter's jubilant hand came down heavily on Colonel Strickland's shoulder.

"What did I tell you about Randolph Carter and old Chief Stacey, Bill?" he cried. "Didn't I say that I made old Jan feel ashamed of himself and that Chief Stacey was white clean through and would use his policemen in favor of an honest vote if he got half a chance? Yes, well! I was a-standin' my bread on the waters when I had that there talk with them in St. Louis, and it's come back to us after these many days, you mark my words."

There was a joyous cheer from his hearers.

But Colonel Todhunter himself held up a warning hand. "Don't be so noisy, boys. Leave that sort of foolishness to the Yancey crowd that just went parading by here if anything of that sort's got to be done. Wait for the figures before you do any hollerin'!"

But Dick Cantrell gave another whoop, notwithstanding. "Here's another bulletin," he cried. "It is now said that Strickland has a heavy plurality in St. Louis as a result of the honest count of votes cast. Yancey's managers are claiming fraud."

And then the "gaggers" began to roll in. The returns from St. Louis by precincts and wards, until now delayed, came at last and well to hand. Dick Cantrell read bulletin after bulletin in unbroken succession. Colonel Strickland, with lips compressed, tabulated the vote by wards. Once or twice he nodded significantly to Colonel Todhunter.

At last there came a break in the steady stream of returns. Lycurgus Quiver grasped a bulletin from the hands of the Blade's "devil" as the latter rushed in breathless. He handed it to Cantrell.

The Blade's editor gave one swift, comprehensive glance at the bulletin and excitedly hurried his hat high in the air with an unrestrained yell of exultation.

"It is now conceded by Yancey's managers," he read, "that Strickland has carried St. Louis by at least 11,000 plurality. With the returns now in from the state, this gives Strickland a total plurality of at least 5,000, with several Strickland counties still to hear from. A conservative estimate indicates that Strickland will be nominated by over 5,000 plurality!"

Colonel Strickland laid down his pencil and leaned back in his chair. "That's reliable," he said. "We've got 'em beat, boys. Anybody that feels like hectoring for Strickland now has got my full permission. It's perfectly safe."

At this moment the little "printer's devil" of the Blade delivered a personal telegram to Colonel Strickland. As the latter read it an expression of the deepest relief and satisfaction sprang into his face.

"Thank God!" he muttered. "I wanted that special piece of news more than anything else in all this world. Here, friends, just you read this, my friends!"

Colonel Todhunter took the bit of paper from Colonel Strickland's hand. The message was signed by Governor Leslie. It read:

Due to enthusiasm caused by Tom's acquittal and the public realization of cowardly fight made on you through him, a popular movement to raise fund covering total deficit in Strickland campaign fund was begun today and successfully completed at our headquarters tonight. Every dollar needed has been subscribed and paid. Reliable election returns now all in show that you are nominated by nearly 6,000 plurality. Congratulations!

Colonel Strickland laughed as gleefully as a boy when Colonel Todhunter placed up at him from the reading of the telegram.

"That settles it, Thers!" he cried. "And by the Lord Harry, I'm gladder to know you're safe on the money and of this fight than to know I've been nominated. It's given me more than one sleepless night of worrying, I can tell you!"

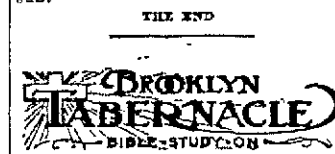

"It hasn't made me lose a wink o' sleep," replied Colonel Todhunter calmly. "I know I ain't as religious a man as I ought to be. Bill Strickland, but I got an alibi! Faith in the Good Master up above all the same. I ain't never doubted he'd see me safe through on that there proposition. He knows the tricks of that machine gang we're fightin' better'n we do, and he ain't agoin' to let 'em prevail over us!"

Saying which, Colonel Todhunter read aloud that sentence of the telegram authoritatively announcing Colonel Strickland's nomination.

Dick Cantrell's loyal voice led the mighty cheer with which this announcement was greeted. Sam Birdsong was second only to him. Colonel Todhunter, smiling just once after having read his proclamation of victory, did not join in the cheering. But when Lycurgus Quiver came to him with outstretched hands, he took them in a close grip of his own, his dauntless old eyes showing just a hint of dampness.

"Colonel Todhunter," spoke Lycurgus, "I'm going to write a poem describing this great triumph after seeming defeat—it's the finest thing I ever saw in all my life!"

"Bully for you, Lycurgus!" replied Colonel Todhunter. "And I bet I'll be a rip-roarin' good poem too—but one you wrote at the origin of the campaign hit the target plumb center, sub!"

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDY HATED WITHOUT A CAUSE.

Genesis 37—April 27.

"Love envious not"—I Corinthians 13:4.

His story of Joseph and his brethren, beautiful in its simplicity, is deeply instructive. One lesson it teaches is the wisdom of a parent in showing too great preference for one child, and thus cultivating amongst the others a spirit of envy. Another lesson is the wisdom of telling even our dreams to unsympathetic ears, as when Joseph told his dreams to his brethren.

Joseph was not to be blamed for artlessly telling his dreams. Evidently this was the very thing which the Lord intended. The Lord foreknew the jealousy of Joseph's brethren, and the growth of envy in their minds and He gave opportunity for it. He had already mapped out Joseph's subsequent experiences, which the envy of his brethren merely helped to accomplish.

The most important feature of today's study is that which recognizes Joseph as a "Joseph Held by His Brethren."

Joseph was on an errand of mercy to his brethren when their envy sold him into slavery. His brethren hated him without a cause—merely because he was good, because their father loved him, and because God had foreshadowed his coming exaltation. They were envious to the point of cruelty.

"They Hated Him Without a Cause." But God's Providence blessed Joseph, and through much tribulation finally brought him to a position next in influence and power to the Egyptian Pharaoh himself. Later, the famine drove Joseph's brethren to Egypt to buy wheat. Thus was fulfilled his dream that his brethren would bow down to him.

Later on, when Jacob's entire family came to live in Goshen, they all did obeisance to Joseph, as the representative of the Egyptian government, thus fulfilling the second dream. But, until the time came for Joseph's exaltation to power, his experiences looked as if the Lord had less love for him than for any other member of Jacob's family.

IT'S A MISTAKE.

Made by Many Connelville Residents.

Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backache, rely on plaster, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Connelville is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Connelville.

H. D. Barclay, 104 E. Main St., Connelville, Pa., says: "I had a lame back and severe pains in my loins. I could not rest well and was hardly able to straighten after stooping. The kidney secretions were highly colored and often contained heavy sediment. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of the trouble with the kidney secretions and removed the lameness and pains in my back. I now sleep soundly and feel better in every way." For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Adv.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Miss Forrest will speak and take an offering for missions. Intermediate C. E. Society 6 P. M. Young People's Society 6:45. Leader, Miss Mary Parkhill. Evening service 7:30. Subject, "The Christian's Joy."

Rockwood Commencement Plans. The revised program of the commencement exercises of the Rockwood High School includes McVay's orchestra, furnishing the music for the Commencement and the dance and Dr. C. T. Saylor, who will present diplomas to the graduates. An address will be delivered to the class by Prof. H. F. Hertzog of the California State Normal school.

This Store Reaps the Benefit of Two-Store Clothes Buying. YOU Profit in Extra Value at Moderate Cost

FOOD is the most important item of a man's life, and next comes clothes. But the kind of clothes a man wears depends largely upon the quality of food he can enjoy and the ease with which he can get it.

Regard it any way you will, a man's appearance—no matter what his occupation—is taken into account—for or against—and determines his standing in business and home life.

Wright - Metzler's Will Dress You CORRECTLY and Give QUALITY at LOWER PRICES Than Smaller Stores Can.

That's where you profit by our larger buying: and we can PROVE it! The price a smaller store must pay for ordinary clothes buys US a HIGHER QUALITY of clothes goodness just as the man who is buying lumber to build a house with can buy it cheaper than the one who goes to the mill for a single board.

Our Suits Come From Manufacturing Tailors Who Have the Bigger Reputations.

Your favorite magazine contains the advertisements of Hirsch-Wickwire Company, Society Brand, Michael Stern Co., which tells you intelligently just why their clothes are superior. You need merely step into this store to select your choice of their clothes.

AT $15 TO $22.50 are many styles—sack and Norfolk—in warranted fabrics and the best grays, browns and blues. You can choose soft, roll front models, highest vests and correct-style trousers; or very conservative models.

AT $10 AND $12.50 are suits absolutely better than equal money will buy anywhere we know. Colors, fabrics, style and making proves our claim.

AT $25 TO $30 are the highest class, hand-tailored garments possible to buy. Perfection shows in the making and finish; in the styles and silhouettes; in the colors and weaves. Any man can be fitted as accurately as individual clothes will fit.

WAISTS You'll Want As Soon As You See Them.

One group—several styles—contains low and high neck, long and short sleeve waists of lawn, val and embroidery trimmed. Others in this group show touches of Bulgarian embroidery on voile, crepe and batiste. Prices are $1.00 to $5.00.
